July - September 2019
Volume 8 Issue 3

Summer Reading
Ends July 31st

Library News!

The first week of summer reading was amazing!

Over 100 children signed up and over 75 Teens/Adults.

We have had some fun "finding the jet" within the library.

Some days it's easier to find than others. Can't wait to see who wins some amazing prizes this summer! All because you read or visited the library ~ that sounds easy enough.

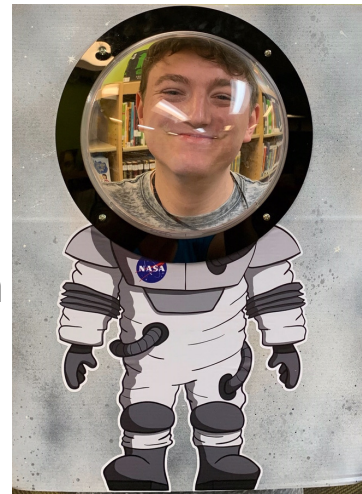

Alien
Space Ship

We have crafts available every day during library hours. Every week it's something new! Supplies are available at the children's desk.

Mitch, a volunteer from AmeriCorp has joined us for the summer. He has been doing story times at the Farmer's Market, Middle School Free Lunch Program and even the City Pool.

We think his story times are outta this world!

Some of the prizes kids have earned during the summer reading program are: alien key chain, alien puffer, galaxy high bounce ball, galaxy slime and gift certificates donated from our local Casey's store!

Director's Notes

So much going on at the library lately. Summer Reading, renovations going on inside and out. Thank you for all your patience during the noise and the busyness going on around the library. It will all be worth it when it's complete!

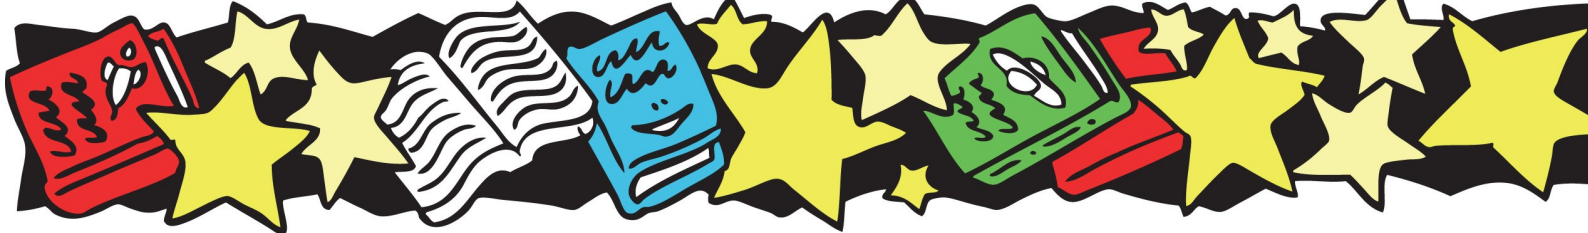

We were in the middle of renovating the Curry Genealogy room and the Bogart Room when water invaded the basement! We were able to get extra funding from the City to address the problem and now renovations have resumed. The Curry & Bogart renovations were made possible by the Barbara Sawyer Estate & The Glenwood Public Library Foundation.

Work has also been completed on the new retaining wall, also paid for by The Glenwood Public Library Foundation.

TEENS, be sure to check out the new book club. Details at the Adult Circulation Desk.

Inspired by the excess of plastic bottles and made of over 2000 bottles that were used during the Spring 2019 flood. This vibrant creation and testament to resilience will be sitting outside the library this summer. Please stop by and see it!
